Here are the area's top doctors as selected by other doctors.

We sent questionnaires to 7,000 randomly selected local physicians asking them what doctors, in each of 40 medical specialties, they would send members of their families to. More than 1,300 responded.

Together they named thousands of physicians in the Washington/Baltimore area. In this searchable directory are those who received the greatest number of recommendations within their specialties, with adjustments for geographic distribution.

When you need the services of specialists, consult your current physicians. This list is designed to be a resource for helping you make informed decisions. We hope it helps keep you in good health.
